JSTOR is a not-for-profit organization with a dual mission to create and maintain a trusted archive of important scholarly journals, and to provide access to these journals as widely as possible. JSTOR offers researchers the ability to retrieve high-resolution, scanned images of journal issues and pages as they were originally designed, printed, and illustrated. The journals archived in JSTOR span many disciplines. The University of Padova subscribed to the following collections: Art & Science 1-3, Business, Ecology and Botany, Health & general sciences. Journal content on JSTOR published prior to 1870 (prior to 1923 in the United States) are freely available to anyone, anywhere in the world. This "Early Journal Content" includes discourse and scholarship in the arts and humanities, economics and politics, and in mathematics and other sciences. This represents 6 percent of the content on JSTOR.
